SPECIAL MEMBERSHIP CATEGORIES

Friends of the Library

Membership in the Friends of the Library does not confer any museum membership benefits. The Friends of the Library is designed to give library benefits to library users who do not wish to become full museum members. Members of the Friends of the Library are excused from all library late fees, and receive library mailings. Friends of the Library membership categories are as follows:

Student.....	$5.00
Individual.....	$10.00
Family.....	$15.00
Organization.....	$15.00

Artist Members

Artist membership is an enhancement of any membership category, other than Friends of the Library. Artist members are selected by an Arkell Museum committee. Artist Members are eligible to have consignments in the Arkell Shop, to participate in member shows, and for listing on the Arkell Museum web site. Please contact the Arkell Museum for further information.

Business and Corporate Partners

Businesses and corporations can become members through a separate membership program. Business and Corporate Partner benefits and categories are not the same as for personal membership. They can include credit in publications and on the Arkell Museum web page. Please contact Eric Trahan, the executive director, for further information.

THE ^{NEW} ARKELL MUSEUM

AT CANAJOHARIE

MEMBERSHIP

for the joy of it.

MEMBERSHIP IS FOR EVERYONE

Membership gives you advance notice on changing exhibitions and programs. Exhibitions in the new museum will change several times each year and members will receive invitations to opening events. Exhibitions from our permanent collection of works by artists such as Winslow Homer, Edward Hopper and Georgia O'Keeffe, and notable works of art from museums across the country will provide visitors with a rich variety of exhibitions of American art and Mohawk Valley history. All members have free admission to the museum and discounted admission to most programs.

Young and old will benefit from membership. As a member, you will know about the adult workshops and family activities before the general public and have a chance to plan ahead and sign up early for these programs.

People who have used the library for years will be reassured as we keep the Canajoharie Library name and remain a full-service friendly community library with small-town charm and a welcoming atmosphere. The new public gathering areas and additional gallery space for regional artists will provide more opportunities for local people to share their artistic interests and talents.
